SAP UNIVERSITY ALLIANCE PROGRAM – TERP10 CERTIFICATION

The SAP University Alliances program is a global endeavor that provides online training with the aid of relevant tools and resources necessary to teach students how technology can enable integrated business processes and strategic thinking – and gives students the skills to add immediate value to the marketplace.

A world's first, the SAP TERP10 course gives a broad understanding of SAP ERP skills based on a functional scope of real-world SAP Best practices, something never before available in an academic course. This eAcademy course is well designed and ensures easy navigation and thus helps equip the student with the best practices knowledge that is most required in industries today.

This SAP certification, which is recognized globally, is one of the first steps in the certification pathway to becoming a full-fledged SAP consultant. The certification workshop conducted on campus has already been piloted and now is ready to be rolled out across universities and thus equips the student community with a certificate of immense value thus offering better career prospects.

With the TERP10 certification, students can apply their knowledge through internship opportunities in SAP partner companies. Students can also proceed to take further certification courses on campus via SAP's online course, SAP eAcademy.

Students who take up the SAP-TERP10 course will have the added advantage of being equipped with a good understanding of business processes adopted in companies. They will also get insights into the best practices on how information- communication can be leveraged upon to optimize business processes and transform the way business is done. Graduates with a grasp of both infocomm skills and business domain knowledge will be in greater demand, as companies today constantly seek talent to develop innovative solutions.

The TERP10 course thus offers an online and a valued engagement learning technique that helps increase the students' understanding of business processes and operations in the real-world. This course is highly valuable as it sensitizes the students to industry best practices and provides a starting point for them to diffuse, customize, and continuously innovate on these best practices, which are critical skills that any graduates can bring to the workplace.

The TERP10 program provides students with valuable insights into how real-world ERP systems like SAP support essential business functions and facilitate the seamless flow of information within an organization. For students who are keen to specialize in SAP as a career, the program is an excellent foundation course that would help them accelerate their learning and contribute effectively in their jobs. SAP skills are highly in demand internationally and many opportunities await SAP certified students in industry leading firms like Accenture, IBM and Infosys to name a few.

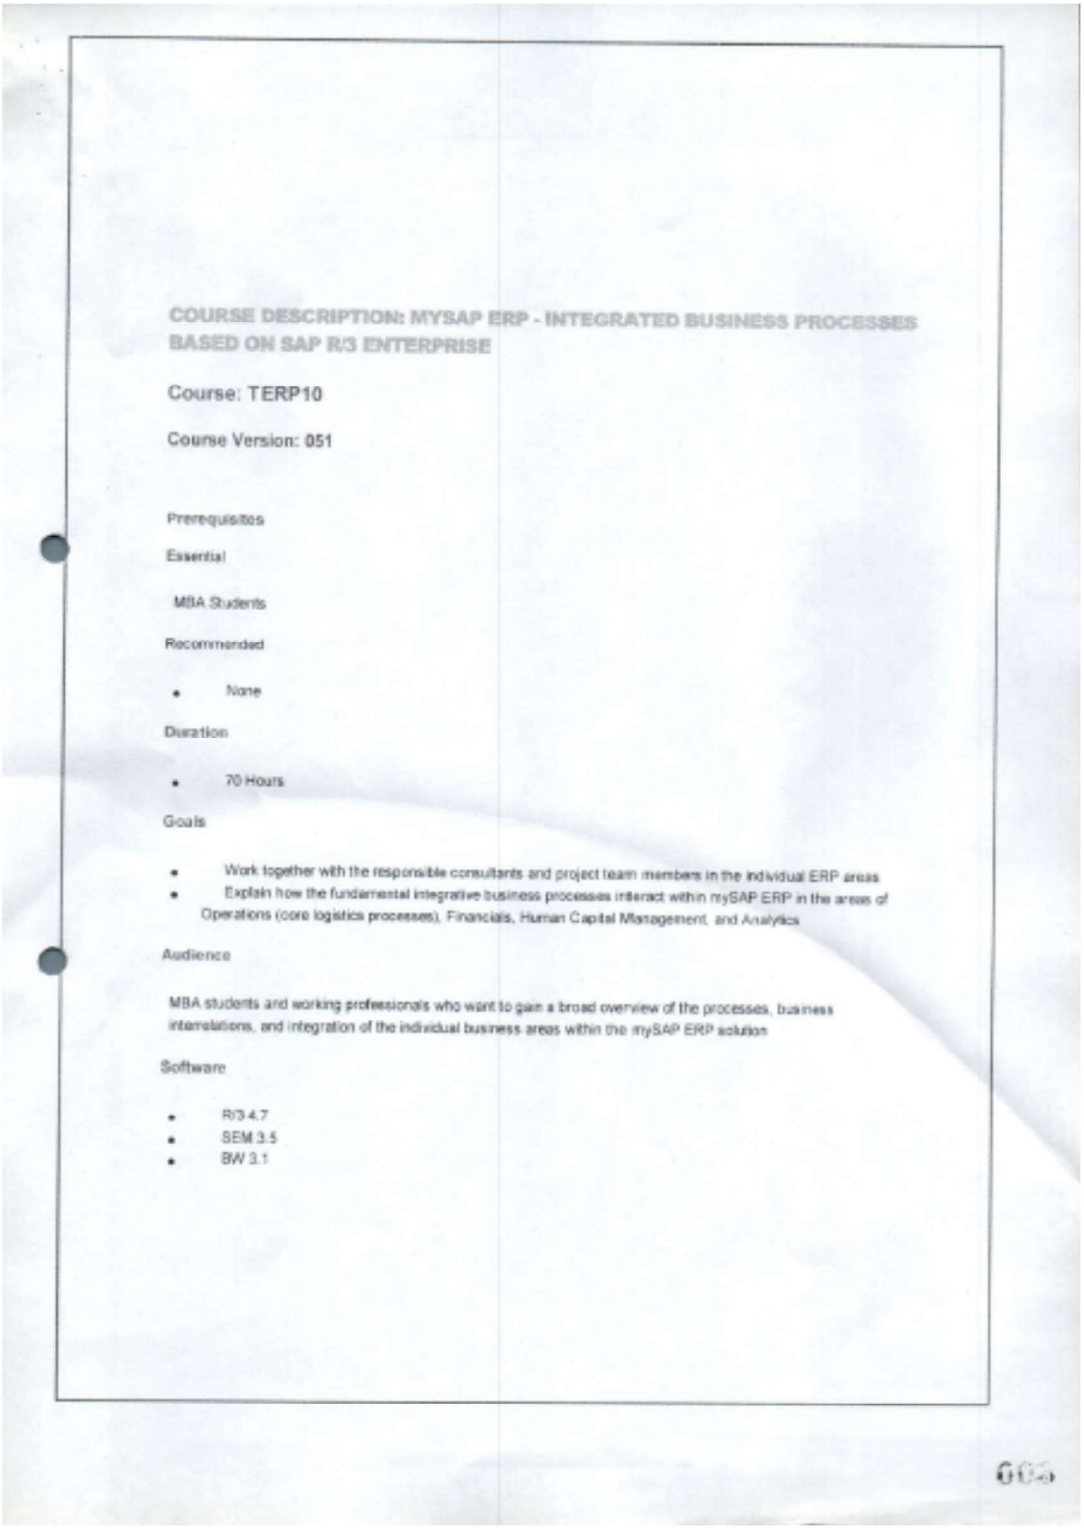

To sum it up, the course provides the students an overview of the key business processes of an enterprise and how technology is harnessed to enable these processes. Using the SAP ERP software as the training tool in the course, the students will gain an understanding of the interdependencies and integration of these business processes and the power of technology enabled ERP system to increase productivity, streamline an organization's way of working and improve business performances. These students equipped with the basic understanding of the SAP system will find it easier to join a SAP project over their peers who have not looked at a TERP Certification yet.

After completion of this course the students have opportunities of working with reputed organizations in the capacity of a pre sales consultant, sales consultant and with an additional eAcademy certification in other domains such as HR, Sales, Financials students can also look at moving into senior roles after considerable exposure and implementation experience.

With this course, we at SAP hope these students will be motivated to further their thirst for new knowledge and skills in the business world.
