If it is okay with you then we can proceed further.

If students do expect the financial support from the company, then please join projects in software programming.

We look forward to your advice on this matter.

Thanks for the prompt response.

Yes, we will start the process. Also, we just want to understand about the possibility of accepting our students for Lab Exchange, which means will NOT be taking any course and they will do their Major Project Work / Thesis at one of your labs under the supervision / guidance of Faculty member. At the end of this, the student will submit their thesis at Vel Tech to defend their Viva. This work could be done as team also (n individual project for each student and upto 3 students can form a team). Hence, as an example, if two Computer Science Engineering students f Tech comes to FPT, they could be allotted with one Guide to do single project. These students are at their Final Semester (8th) of their Under in Engineering.

Hope i could convey the information correctly for your understanding.
