

COOPERATION AGREEMENT

Between

National Kaohsiung Normal University, Taiwan

and

Veltech Dr.RR & Dr. SR University, India

(Vel Tech Rangarajan Dr.Sagunthala R&D Institute of Science and Technology)

This agreement aims to promote and strengthen mutual cultural understanding through an exchange program between National Kaohsiung Normal University, Taiwan (NKNU) and Veltech Dr.RR & Dr.SR University, India (Veltech) under the following conditions:

1. Aims and Objectives

The exchange program includes the following areas:

- Exchange opportunities for students from each institution at undergraduate-and graduate levels
- Faculty and staff exchanges
- Joint research and service activities

2. Responsibility

The coordinators in the Office of International Cooperation are responsible for setting out regulations concerning the exact course of proceedings, and ensuring that they are adhered to. Each institution will nominate those coordinators to the respective partner university.

3. Exchange Students

The contracting institutions agree to the following:

- The exchange students between the two universities shall be organized jointly by the coordinators of the Office of International Cooperation in each of the universities.
- Prior to an exchange program, an agreement must be reached between the cooperating universities with help from the above named coordinators regarding the recognition of the academic achievements at the respective host university. This agreement should be made known to the students concerned.

- A transcript of records of previous academic performance and an outline of a study plan at the host university should be submitted by the exchange student before admittance to the host university.
- Exchange students may take part in the regular courses of study at the host university or may do research for an agreed project or thesis. Mandarin courses are encouraged for free at the basic levels by NKNU.
- NKNU is responsible for the selection and nomination of exchange students to Veltech, and vice versa. The results of the selection should be made available to the host university three months before the beginning of the semester at the latest. The nominated students will then be registered as regular exchange students at the host university. Requests for extension of stay, not to exceed two semesters or one academic year, are subject to approval by both universities.
- Exchange students are responsible for their own travel cost and cost of living, though the contracting universities may support these students by granting student assistantships or other allowances.
- There will be reciprocal assistance offered with regard to accommodation through the respective Office of International Cooperation of both universities. The cost of accommodation, including meals, is the responsibility of exchange students.
- Regarding tuition fees, exchange students are obliged to their host university for the mutual case by case arrangement.
- Exchange students are personally responsible for their own medical insurance. Students from NKNU and Veltech alike are responsible for obtaining the necessary medical insurance for their host country and to meet all the necessary visa requirements of the respective host country.

4. Lecturer Exchange and Research Collaboration

The exchange of lecturers for a short or long period of time is encouraged. This may take the form of joint research activities and/or the development of a joint curriculum. Visits and exchanges, including financing, are subject to individual agreement. Each institution will be responsible for their own financial support either from their own means or that of a third party.

5. Changes to the Agreement

Any changes to this agreement must be made in written form.

6. Beginning and Termination of the Agreement

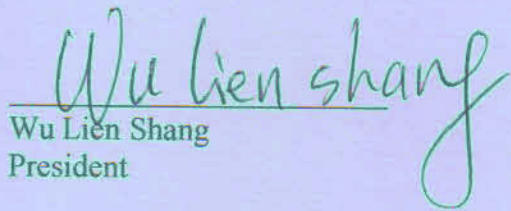

This agreement takes effect after having been passed by the relevant authorities of both universities, and the signing by the authorized representatives of both universities. This agreement shall be in force for a period of two years from the date of its enactment and shall be renewable by mutual written consent at the end of that period. This agreement may be amended or modified at any time by the mutual consent of the cooperating universities and terminated with six months written notice by either party. The termination of this agreement shall allow for any participants who have commenced studies at the host university at the date of the termination to complete their approved course of study under the conditions of this agreement.
